

Alert fraud detection

ivantrujillo1229@gmail.com

September 4, 2026

1 Introduction

A bank uses the probability of an unusually high number of transactions as an input to its fraud prevention alert system.

Your task is to estimate the following probability, which will be used as an input to the alert system:

- What is the probability that a customer makes more than 6 transactions in one hour?

The dataset is available here (Click here).